

Reflections on retiring...again!

I believe I was led by God into pastoral care when I retired from education at the end of 2016. I had turned 60 and that seemed to be a good time to go. God must have been having a bit of a giggle then, as my entry into this world of hospital pastoral care has taken me into places and situations creating the ground for personal and spiritual change in ways I could never have imagined.

In this place I have discovered a second home. Each person who comes into our pastoral care rooms and Place of Prayer comments on the sense of peace and sacredness in that space. I too felt that when I first began and have come to realise since that the sacred space is a space where much prayer occurs.

To be able to give of myself in the role of pastoral carer I have to be in a "good" place spiritually, emotionally and physically. For how can I adequately care for the troubled spirits of those patients I meet if I am not in a good relationship with myself, my colleagues and most importantly with my beloved Lord. The role asks a lot of each of us who feel called to it – to gently listen, care and demonstrate God's love for each person we meet, no matter how they come across.

I am retiring from my role of coordinator of this pastoral care service and grateful to be able to hand those responsibilities across to someone who comes with energy, enthusiasm and wisdom. I will not retire from a volunteer role as a pastoral carer because I still feel that sense of call.

There have certainly been crises and dramas since I started as coordinator in 2018 and continues to be as churches need to work out how important this ministry is to them and their community. Money needs to be dedicated both by us, our community and I believe the government to provide people who will be available 24 hours a day / 7 days a week to meet the needs of those patients, their families and the hospital staff who appeal to pastoral care for help.

I would urge us as a church family to actively support this ministry and I continue to uphold it in prayer as I hope you will also.

News and Announcements

AGM

Thanks to all who attended our Annual General Meeting on 8th October, and congratulations to Paula Nicholls, Neil Middleton and Gordon Gillmore who were all elected to Church Council.

Men's Breakfast

A big thank-you to all who helped with this event on 7th October. We had a very blessed time together as we ate, talked and heard from Ps Peter Cole who shared his faith journey with us. The event was started with the desire to provide a time of connection and reflection for men, who are finding it hard in our society to develop friendships.

We are planning the next event for Saturday 3rd February.

Keenagers Carols - 30th November

Our Keenagers group is meeting on Thursday 30th November from 9.30am for morning tea, and a time of Christmas celebration and traditional carol-singing. All welcome.

Meeting of the 37th Queensland Synod of the Uniting Church in Australia

The theme of the 37th Synod meeting from the 21st to the 25th October, was 'Renewal'. Rev Bruce Moore (pictured top) was inducted as the new Moderator.

The emphasis of the meeting was on renewal being a spiritual process, and one that starts with God and prayer, and not something that we can make happen through merely having programs and events. Rev Bruce Moore articulated the 'deep work' that each person has to be willing to undertake so that renewal can take hold, flourish and grow.

I really appreciated the time of prayer that we had on the Monday night, praying for one another and for renewal in our personal lives and in our churches. I also enjoyed the 'Yarning Circles', which replaced our usual small group meetings, and provided a great opportunity to listen to and learn from one another, and build new connections in the body of Christ.

As well as stories of hope, renewal and green shoots, we also acknowledged and lamented some of the pain that many members are going through due to the decision to stop funding chaplaincy in public hospitals. I believe that the Synod was able to express some of its disappointment and grief regarding this decision, and to think about how we move forward and make sure that we do not abandon these spaces.

We had some excellent Bible studies and the Norman and Mary Miller lecture given by Stan Grant (pictured right), which was a profound reflection covering theological, personal and political ground, with Stan saying, "God never fails me, words are where I find God. Today I was reminded about how God speaks to us ...always ... especially in despair... There is love waiting at the end of the story."

I thank Gordon Gillmore who was an excellent roommate and friend throughout Synod. Thanks be to God I feel spiritually refreshed from this meeting and believe that God has been stirring up some thoughts about the future direction of Lifeworks.

If you have any questions about Synod, feel free to speak with Gordon or I, or have a look at the Uniting Church in Queensland's Facebook page which has lots of information and photos from this event.
